The screenshot displays the Government of Telangana State eProcurement (Tender Management System) website. The header includes the state emblem and the text "Government of Telangana State" and "eProcurement (Tender Management System)". The navigation bar contains links for Home, eProcurement Guidelines, MIS Reports, Downloads, HelpDesk, Suggestions, and Login. A central error message box reads: "Please check the server connection: [object Event]" with an "OK" button. The main content area features a "Latest News" section with a banner image of a man in a white shirt, a "DISTRICTS WISE TENDERS" section with a map of Telangana, and a "TENDERS @ A GLANCE!" section listing "Live Tenders (22)", "Tenders Closing Today (1)", "Tenders by Department", and "Tenders by ECV". At the bottom, there are tabs for "Current Tenders", "Corrigendums", and "Upcoming Tenders".

Enter <https://127.0.0.1:8080/> in another window, click on “Advanced” and then on “Add Exception”

The screenshot shows a Firefox browser window with the address bar containing <https://127.0.0.1:8080/>. The main content area displays a security warning with a red padlock icon and the text: "Your connection is not secure". Below this, it states: "The owner of 127.0.0.1 has configured their website improperly. To protect your information from being stolen, Firefox has not connected to this website." There is a link for "Learn more...". Two buttons are visible: "Go Back" (highlighted in blue) and "Advanced". A checkbox is checked with the text "Report errors like this to help Mozilla identify misconfigured sites". A detailed error message box contains the text: "127.0.0.1:8080 uses an invalid security certificate. The certificate is not trusted because it is self-signed. Error code: SEC_ERROR_UNKNOWN_ISSUER". At the bottom of this box is an "Add Exception..." button.

Click on “Confirm Security Exception” in Add Security Exception window.
